Hello everyone, another busy and exciting week, and the start of autumn!

In Maths, we have been learning about prime numbers, factors of numbers and negative numbers. The children have completed lots of difficult work and have been motivated throughout!

In English, we have continued our book, 'A Pig called Henry' and we have started the sequel 'A Horse called Deathblow'. The children have written a diary entry about meeting the King, and an alliterative poem about the King's breakfast! We got very hungry just by reading them! We have also practised using speech marks by using correct punctuation.

On Wednesday we had our Paralympic Day across Key Stage 2. The children took part in various activities, where we looked at the experiences of different people with different disabilities. The children were fantastic throughout, and have used their experiences to put themselves in the position of the athletes and people with those disabilities.

In History, we have continued our topic of the Tudors. We have learnt the timeline of the Tudor monarchs and a few facts about who they are and what they achieved.

For home learning, the children have a 'mymaths' sheet to complete on factors and prime numbers. Can this be completed by Wednesday 28th September please? If you have trouble accessing the website, please let me know and I can print the sheet off for you.
