Hello,

Another week gone and another step closer to Christmas! The children have worked ever so well this week.

In Maths, we have moved on to decimals and fractions. The children have been adding and subtracting decimals with great confidence and accuracy and have also been solving word problems involving these areas. We have also been finding equivalent fractions and comparing fractions with the same and different denominators.

In English, we have finished our topic on poetry. This week the children have created wonderful poems about the seasons, using all the skills we have learnt throughout the last couple of weeks. We have started our new topic to create our own myths. The children have discussed features of myths, legends and fables and they have begun to create their own hero and fantastical beast!

The children also took part in a dance workshop. They behaved brilliantly and had a great time creating their own routines, which told a story.

In RE, we have continued with our topic of Islam. We have been learning about the Qur'an and the Islamic moral teachings and how we can use them in our everyday lives.

For home learning, I would like the children to complete the MyMaths page on finding equivalent fractions. This should be completed by Wednesday 30th November 2016.

I hope you have a wonderful weekend,

Mr Deakin
