

Dear Parents,

This week the children have completed a variety of activities, they completed time sheets to identify quarter past the hour and quarter to. In English, they wrote a story of their choice, we will use this for a lesson on how to edit and improve their writing in the new year.

The children thoroughly enjoyed our time in the woods and their tea party. Thank you to all those parents roped into making cakes by their children, they were delicious!

Congratulations to the children who performed on Thursday morning for 'Rock Steady!' I am sure you will agree that they were pretty amazing; they have even made the teachers want to form a school band!

During the holidays, if the children would like to attempt to make an Egyptian pyramid or a sphynx for our topic next term, they can show them and keep them on our display for the term. This is optional, however I know that some of the children enjoy building things!

Could you please check your child's PE kit when they bring it home next week? Lots of them are saying their shoes don't fit and that they have something missing. We have nothing in the classroom, however there is lots of clothing in lost property still.

Hopefully you were able to make it to watch your child sing in the church on Tuesday or Wednesday. I have to say just how proud I felt of them, they behaved beautifully and sang so well. I am sure you were equally proud of your child.

Mrs Patterson and I want to wish you all a fantastic Christmas and a very Happy New Year!

Kind regards,

Mrs Wardle and Mrs Patterson
